"It is my pleasure on behalf of all of us here to extend our sincere appreciation and thanks to [redacted] for the services he extended while assigned to this organization. He performed his primary communication duties with dispatch and efficiency. In addition, he volunteered to help any and all of us whenever and to the extent he was able. [redacted] has an engaging personality, a good sense of humor, and an ability to mix well with diverse personalities.

My personal knowledge of [redacted] technical capability is limited; however, I do know that our TX traffic was handled well while he was here. The two secretaries have assured me that he is extremely well qualified technically. In addition, he displayed an unusual teaching ability. In this respect, he was able to transmit with apparent ease and fluidity his knowledge, both vocally and in writing. He was most thorough and patient. The proof of his success has been in the ability of both secretaries to handle the TX traffic with no particular difficulty since [redacted] left.

[redacted] became quite firmly established as an adopted member of our organization, and all of us were disappointed that he had to leave. We would most certainly welcome him back at any time.
